DEFENDANTS' MEMORANDUM IN SUPPORT OF THEIR MOTION FOR THE COURT TO TAKE JUDICIAL NOTICE

Defendants State Board of Election Commissioners, Tate Reeves, in his official capacity as Governor of Mississippi, Lynn Fitch, in her official capacity as Attorney General of Mississippi, and Michael Watson, in his official capacity as Secretary of State (collectively "Defendants") submit their Memorandum in Support of their Motion for the Court to take Judicial Notice of the facts and information identified in and attached to the Motion under Rule 201(b) and 201(c)(2) of the Federal Rules of Evidence. Pursuant to Local Rules 7(b)(1), Plaintiffs advise they intend to oppose this motion.

"The doctrine of judicial notice permits a judge to consider a generally accepted or readily verified fact as proved without requiring evidence to establish it." United States v. Berrojo, 628 F.2d 368, 369 (5th Cir. 1980). Taking judicial notice of Census data is appropriate, relevant for this case, and will streamline the presentation of evidence at trial. See Shelby County, Ala. v. Holder, 570 U.S. 529, 535 (2013) (using Census Bureau data to determine that “African-American voter turnout has come to exceed white voter turnout in five of the six States originally covered by § 5[.]”); Hollinger v. Home State Mut. Ins., 654 F.3d 564, 571-72 (5th Cir. 2011). The facts below are appropriate topics for judicial notice under Fed. R. Evid. 201.

ARGUMENT

This Court may take judicial notice of adjudicative facts not subject to reasonable dispute.

See FED. R. EVID. 201.

Federal Rule of Evidence 201 provides that a court may take judicial notice of an ‘adjudicative fact’ if the fact is ‘not subject to reasonable dispute’ in that it is either (1) generally known within the territorial jurisdiction of the trial court or (2) capable of accurate and ready determination by resort to sources whose accuracy cannot be questioned.

Amos v. Cain, 2020 WL 6688864, *1 (N.D. Miss. Nov. 12, 2020) (quoting Doe v. Mckesson, 945

F.3d 818, 833 (5th Cir. 2019) (quoting FED. R. EVID. 201(b)), vacated on other grounds, Mckesson v. Doe, 592 U.S. 1 (2020)). An “adjudicative fact” is defined as “[a] controlling or operative fact, rather than a background fact.” Allied Home Mortg. Cap. Corp. v. Blues Alley Estates Ltd. P’ship, 2008 WL 11342878, at *1 (N.D. Miss. Sept. 9, 2008) (quoting BLACK’S LAW DICTIONARY 629 (8th ed. 2004)). These facts should be adjudicative, meaning they are “facts which are relevant to the disposition of the case.” Amos, 2020 WL 6688864, at *1 (citing Usery v. Tamiami Trail Tours, Inc., 531 F.2d 224, 244 n.52 (5th Cir. 1976) (Brown, C.J., concurring) (“Adjudicative facts are the peculiar facts relevant to the particular case in controversy”)).

This Court’s inquiry here requires a review of “the totality of circumstances” to determine whether the lines of the Mississippi Supreme Court Central District deprive “black voters of the equal opportunity to participate in the political process and to elect representatives of their choice.” Fairley v. Hattiesburg, Miss., 584 F.3d 660, 667 (5th Cir. 2009); see also Allen v. Milligan, 599 U.S. 1, 18 (2023). United States census data in relation to voter turnout is relevant to these issues. See Shelby County, 570 U.S. at 535. For instance, in Shelby County, the Supreme Court used data from the United States Census Bureau’s “Reported Voting and Registration, by Sex, Race and Hispanic Origin, for States”—specifically Table 4b—to determine that black voter turnout exceeded white voter turnout in five of the six states, including Mississippi, originally covered by Section 5. Id. Likewise, the District Court in Ala. State Conf. of NAACP v. Ala. utilized the “Reported Voting and Registration, by Sex, Race, and Hispanic Origin, for States” table in its determination that “registration and turnout rates among African-Americans and whites have reached parity.” Ala. State Conf. of NAACP v. Ala., 612 F. Supp. 3d 1232, 1290 (M.D. Ala. 2020) (citing Shelby County, 570 U.S. at 548). This is the same data Defendants propose this Court judicially notice. Accordingly, the Court “must take judicial notice if a party requests it and the court is supplied with the necessary information.” FED. R. EVID. 201(c)(2) (emphasis added).

The facts discussed above are properly the subject of judicial notice. First, “United States census data is an appropriate and frequent subject of judicial notice.” Stringer v. Whitely, 942 F.3d 715, 722 n.23 (5th Cir. 2019) (taking judicial notice of United States Census Bureau ACS Data) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). See League of United Latin American Citizens (“LULAC”) v. Abbott, 617 F. Supp. 3d 622, 631 n.2 (W.D. Tex. 2022) (taking judicial notice of United States Census Bureau ACS Data); Mississippi ex rel. Hood v. AU Optronics Corp., 876 F. Supp. 2d 758, 773-74 (S.D. Miss. 2012) (taking judicial notice of United States Census survey data).

The Census records are official government public records frequently used in Section 2 cases and are generally the subject of judicial notice under Rule 201. See LULAC, 617 F. Supp. 3d at 631 n.2 (citation omitted). These records are collected by the United States Census Bureau and the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, which are both government agencies. These facts are not subject to reasonable dispute. FED. R. EVID. 201. See Cannon v. Nash, 2019 WL 2110594, at *1 (S.D. Miss. Apr. 29, 2019) (permitting judicial notice of governmental records readily available in the public domain, such as the internet, because the fact of record keeping is not subject to reasonable dispute and the accuracy could not reasonably be questioned).

If the Court takes judicial notice of the Census data above, the table summarizing the Census data is admissible pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 1006. See United States v. Spalding, 894 F.3d 173, 185-86 (5th Cir. 2018). “A party ‘may use a summary, chart, or calculation to prove the content of voluminous writings, recordings, or photographs that cannot be conveniently examined in court.’” Spalding, 894 F.3d at 185 (quoting FED. R. EVID. 1006). The voluminous records the table summarizes are attached as Exhibits A – S of the Motion for Judicial Notice. Should the Court take judicial notice of the voluminous Census Bureau data, it will be appropriately before the Court.

Since this is a bench trial, the Court sits as the trier of fact and there is no concern of improper use by a jury.

CONCLUSION

For these reasons, Defendants State Board of Election Commissioners, Tate Reeves, in his official capacity as Governor of Mississippi, Lynn Fitch, in her official capacity as Attorney General of Mississippi, and Michael Watson, in his official capacity as Secretary of State request that the Court grant Defendants' Motion for Judicial Notice.

This the 26th day of July, 2024.
